

The Balance Pyramid

In order for a band to sound its best, the volumes of each section need to be relative to one another. The Balance Pyramid demonstrates the ideal volume of each section. The larger the section, the louder those instruments should sound. Likewise, the lower sounding the instrument, the louder the volume should be.

